

Winters

Advocate

WINTERS, YOLO COUNTY, SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 23, 1878.

NO. 21.

The Winters Advocate.

W. O. WARNOCK,
PUBLISHER AND PROPRIETOR.
ISSUED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.
PUBLICATION OFFICE:
On First Street, between Main and Russell, Winters, Yolo County, Cal.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
By mail, post-paid, per annum, in advance, $1.00 Six months, in advance, .60 Three months, in advance, .35 By carrier, per copy, 5 cents Single copies, 5 cents
One square, one line, one week, .25 One square, one line, one month, .75 One square, one line, three months, $2.00 One square, one line, six months, $3.50 One square, one line, one year, $6.00 Special rates by the year, for advertising in this paper, by law, $10.00 per annum, in advance, for each square of one line, for each week, $1.00. All trans-continental advertisements must be paid for in advance.
JOHN JACOBS, Proprietor, Winters, Yolo County, Cal.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

W. T. BELL, M. D., Physician and Surgeon,
A GRADUATE of the University of Pennsylvania, has permanently located in Winters, and now offers his services to the afflicted who may need his aid.
Office at residence, on Russell Street, bet. Railroad and First Streets.

E. R. BUSH,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
WOODLAND, CAL.
Will practice in the District and Supreme Courts.

F. E. BAKER,
Attorney and Counselor at Law, OFFICE—At the Court House, WOODLAND, Jy15-17

D. E. ALEXANDER, ATTORNEY AT LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, SACRAMENTO,
my27

C. H. GAROUTTE, Searcher of Records and Attorney at Law, WOODLAND, YOLO COUNTY, CAL.
Special attention paid to business in the Probate Court.
my27

WIN. J. DAVIS, Official Short-hand Reporter of the 6th Judicial Court, SACRAMENTO AND YOLO COUNTIES OFFICE—Court House Sacramento.

J. D. GREGORY,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
Cor. of South and First Sts., WINTERS.
WILL attend to all calls in the line of the profession DAY or NIGHT.
my27

DR. B. H. PEIRSON, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
WOODLAND.
OFFICE—Main Street, near Byrum & Co's Drug Store. Office hours—from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., and from 7 P. M. to 9 P. M., unless professionally engaged.
my27

W. A. HUGHSON, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—Over Capital Bank, Corner J and Fourth Streets. Residence—Fourth Street, between G and H. Office hours—from 11 to 12 A. M., 1 to 5 P. M., and 7 to 9 P. M. in the evening.

DR. W. C. HARDING,
DENTIST,
Located at Sulzner, Solano County, Cal.
OFFICE:
At Residence on Solano Street.
Branch Offices at WINTERS and VACAVILLE.
Address all communications to office at Sulzner.

LIQUID NITROUS OXIDE Administered for the PAINLESS EXTRACTION OF TEETH. aug17

FASHIONABLE DRESSMAKING!
MRS. W. O. WARNOCK HAS OPENED
A Fashionable Dressmaking Establishment,
On First Street, near the M.E. Church South, WINTERS.
WHERE SHE IS PREPARED TO MAKE DRESSES of all styles in the LATEST STYLES. She does her work neatly and promptly, and Satisfaction guaranteed.
All orders from Madison and surrounding county will receive prompt attention.
Children's Clothing and Plain Sewing, Neatly Executed.
aug17

SCOTT'S BARBER SHOP.
MAIN STREET, adjoining Welch's Saloon.
Where he is prepared to do all work in his line, and to give the best of service.
STRICT ATTENTION TO BUSINESS.
TO MERIT PUBLIC PATRONAGE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting A SPECIALTY.
my27

CAPITAL HOTEL.

WOODLAND.
HAVING purchased, thoroughly renovated and refurnished this hotel and favorite house throughout, the patronage of the traveling and resident public is respectfully solicited.
GOOD BOARDING AND COMFORT-ABLE ROOMS.
REASONABLE PRICES for the DAY or WEEK.
THE TABLE will be supplied with the best the market affords.
No Chinese Cooks Employed.
Free "BUS" to and from all passenger trains.
MATT. TACOMNEY, Prop'r.
Jy15-17

CRAFT HOTEL,
Main Street.
JOHN JACOBS, - - Prop'r.
WOODLAND, CAL.
sept12-17

ACCIDENTAL Saloon, Wine and Billiard PARLORS,
MAIN ST. BET. RAILROAD AND FIRST,
WINTERS.
J. C. HULSE, Proprietor.
Choice Wines, Liquors and Cigars.
A FINE BILLIARD TABLE HAS JUST BEEN SET UP.
Jy15-17

WINE and Billiard Parlors,
MAIN STREET, WOODLAND.
ABE MORRIS, - - Proprietor.
Choice Wines, Liquors and Cigars.
TWO FINE NEW BILLIARD TABLES HAVE JUST BEEN SET UP.
Give me a call.
my17

Centennial Saloon,
Main Street, near First,
WINTERS.
M. W. McGRATH, - - Proprietor.
Where can be found a choice supply of WINES, LIQUORS, LAGER BEER, AND CIGARS of the favorite brands.
Call and see us, and being refreshed, enabled to go on your way rejoicing.
Jy15-17

WINE AND BILLIARD PARLORS,
SACKETT'S BUILDING, MAIN STREET, BETWEEN RAILROAD AND FIRST.
CHAFÉ SWEETZER - - Proprietor.
THE BEST OF Wines, Liquors and Cigars.
Always on hand; also a FIRST-CLASS BILLIARD TABLE.
my17-17

EAGLE SALOON,
S. W. STOLLINGS, - - PROPRIETOR, Adjoining Justice Office, east of Postoffice, WOODLAND.
THE BAR is supplied with the best of Wines, Liquors and Cigars.
GIVE ME A CALL.
Jy17-17

CLARK'S SALOON,
Main Street, Winters.
NEXT DOOR TO THE
BARBER SHOP.
THE BEST OF
EVERYTHING IN THAT LINE.
I SOLICIT A SHARE OF THE PUBLIC PATRONAGE.
my17-17

J. B. POCKMAN,
FIRST STREET
LIVERY STABLES, (Rear of Freeman & Co's Store), WOODLAND, CAL.
FIRST-CLASS TURN-OUTS, MODER-ATE CHARGES.
SPECIAL ATTENTION PAID TO BOARDING HORSES.
A Mammoth Cart and Feed Yard attached for the accommodation of Large Teams.
my17-17

BROWN'S Livery and Feed Stable, First and Baker Sts.
HORSES AND CARRIAGES ON HAND
DAY AND NIGHT.
Horses Boarded by Day or Month AT REASONABLE RATES.
B. BROWN, Prop'r.
my27

Pioneer Drug Store,

MAIN STREET, WINTERS.
THOMAS KEEFE,
HAVING REMOVED TO MY NEW BRICK Store, and re-stocked it with Fresh Drugs and Medicines, I would respectfully inform my friends and the public in general, that I am prepared to fill PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS
With care, NIGHT OR DAY. Parties living at a distance can have their Medicines sent by express C. O. D.
I have always on hand

PURE WINES and LIQUORS FOR MEDICAL USE.
FINE HAVANA CIGARS
ALWAYS ON HAND.
-ALSO-
TEETH EXTRACTED WITH CARE AND SKILL.
my17

E. A. HUMPHREY'S Saddle & Harness SHOP,
Railroad Street, bet. Abby and Edwards, WINTERS.
KEEPS a Large and Selected Stock of SADDLES, BRIDLES, HALTERS, BUGGY HORSES, LADY PISTOLS, WHIPS, ETC.
Gloves of all Description constantly on hand.
REPAIRING DONE AT THE SHORTEST NOTICE, AND AT PRICES TO SUIT THE TIMES.
my17

MEAT MARKET,
MAIN STREET, bet. Railroad and First,
WINTERS.
JEFERA JEANS, - - Proprietor.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Beef, Pork and Mutton.
ACCOMMODATION.
FOR the accommodation of parties residing at a distance from town, the proprietor has commenced to run a daily MEAT WAGON.
Which will attend to all orders in his line.
my17

EDWARD HAYES, CORNER OF FIRST & ABBY STS.
Having enlarged his establishment, is now prepared to do all kinds of Work in His Line INCLUDING CARRIAGES, WAGONS, FARMING MACHINERY, AND TURNING
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
And he does not propose to be outdone in workmanship, or in fair, honorable dealing.
Horse-shoeing a Specialty.
Jy15-17

OWEN WYNNE, MERCHANT TAILOR,
Informs the Public that he will make Clothing at Greatly Reduced Prices, and a GOOD FIT GUARANTEED IN EVERY CASE!
Business Suits, - $30 to $40 Pants, - $5 to $10 Dress Suits to Order, - $35 to $50 Don't fail to call and examine my work before going elsewhere, all my own manufacture.
REMEMBER THE PLACE.
MAIN STREET, IN WINTERS HOTEL, WINTERS.
Jy15-17

Joseph B. Murray, HOUSE, SIGN & CARRIAGE PAINTER, WINTERS, YOLO COUNTY, CAL.
PAPER HANGING, GRAINING AND GLAZING Promptly Attended to.
my17-17

MILK! MILK!
H. JONES
INFORMS the citizens of Winters that he is prepared to supply them with pure FRESH MILK, in morning and evening, and to have by strict attention to his business, to merit a share of their patronage. O.K. bottled so as to keep in a cool place, and will be promptly delivered.
Jy15-17

J. C. Campbell
INFORMS the citizens of Winters that he is prepared with a good team to do Draying, at the shortest notice, and on reasonable terms, and solicits their patronage.
C. A. BOEKHOFF, Dyeing and Cleaning Establishment, No. 153 K St., bet. 5th and 6th, SACRAMENTO.
JADES, Crozes, Woolen Shawls, Dresses of every description, Gowns and Fasteners Dyeed and Cleaned without shrinkage.
my27

Charlie's Story.
I was sitting in the twilight, With my Charlie on my knee—(Little two-year-old, forever Teasing, "Talk a 'tory, please to me.")
"Yes," I said, "talk me a 'tory."
"Well," reflectively, "I'll mence." Mamma, I did see a killy, Great-big-dog on the fence."
Mamma smiles. Five little fingers Cover up her laughing lips.
"Is he laughing?" "Yes," I tell him.
But I kiss the finger-tips.
And I say, "Now tell another."
"Well," all smiles, "now I will mence." Mamma, I did see a doggie,
Great-big-dog on the fence."
"Rather similar—your stories—" Aren't they dear? A sober look Swept across the pretty forehead.
Then he sudden courage took.
"But I know a new 'tory," "Plendil, mamma! Hear me mence."
Mamma, I did see a doggie,
Great-big-dog on the fence!"
—Springfield Republican.

The Little Voyages.
They were two droll little German children, Hans and Freda, and they lived near the great, beautiful sea, that came tumbling up almost at their door, and broke in a long line of white spray as far as the eye could reach.
They loved it, just as you love the beautiful meadows all sprinkled with blue-eyed grass and daisies, and they listened while it talked to them, or sang them to sleep, as it often did on the sweet midsummer evenings, when the song was so low that it seemed only the faintest lullaby. Were they ever afraid? O no; they were never afraid, though his coat and his little sister's strong, they saw their mother's face grow pale and knew she was afraid; but then the father always came home and brought plenty of fish with him, though his coat would be drenched with rain, and his hands stiff with cold, he always smiled and seemed contented and happy, and how could the little ones know anything of the perils he had passed through?
As for Hans, he thought he was quite a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his father, and had sailed up and down over the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very far from pain. His father laughed and said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water
until he was almost dizzy with strange
sensations and excitement, scarcely able
to call it pleasure, and yet something very
far from pain. His father laughed and
said he was a little sea-sick, but Hans
did not care, and he thought he was quite
a sailor, for on two warm summer days
he had been out in the boat with his
father, and had sailed up and down over
the beautiful sparkling crests of water

THE WINTERS ADVOCATE.

SATURDAY.....MARCH 23, 1878.

Local Agents.
 GEORGE B. MOTT is sole Agent for the Advocate in Sacramento, who will receive and re-print for all advertisements and subscriptions from this date.

CALENDAR FOR MARCH.

SUN	MON	TUE	WED	THUR	FRI	SAT
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31

The Constitutional Convention meets September 28th.

Carloads of emigrants are returning East daily.

The river rose at Colusa, on Saturday last, and the back country was again overflowed.

The date of the adjournment of the Legislature is fixed for April 2d.

Returning Board Anderson, sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Louisiana Penitentiary, has been released from the sentence by the Supreme Court of that State.

The report of the Adjutant General of Texas shows there are over four thousand fugitives from justice of the Lone Star State, and forty counties to hear from.

The heaviest storm ever experienced in West Virginia passed over Jefferson county, on Monday. Hail stones larger than eggs fell for an hour, unroofing houses, breaking glass, and killing cattle, hogs and sheep.

We noticed last week that counterfeit half-dollars were in circulation in Lower Lake and Knoxville. Since then a U. S. Marshal has arrested two brothers named Frank and George Morine, who live some 20 miles from Lower Lake, as the counterfeiters.

"How shall we utilize the Chinese?" asks the California Press. We suppose it never occurred to Californians to petrify the Chinese and sell them for tea-store signs, says the Hannibal Courier.

A gentleman in Shanghai writes to another in San Francisco that in Northern China, containing a population of over fifteen millions, the famine and destitution is so great, that the people are actually eating each other, and babies are cut up and sold by the pound!

A Mrs. Ben Pitman died recently, in Pennsylvania, and her husband had her remains cremated at Washington, in that State. After the process had been gone through with, there remained but about a quart of ashes, which the loving husband took home and used as a fertilizer for a rosebush!

A Kelseyville correspondent of the Lake County Bee talks of a gas mound, covering about one and a half acres of land, on the eastern boundary of that town. The gas is driven up through the soil, will burn for hours, and has been utilized for cooking operations.

It does seem shameful the way Congress treats the honest, sun-burned, hard-handed sons of toil, who deal in bonds and stocks and corner gold and pork and swallow railroads for amusement. They have played upon their knees, and the newspapers have cussed, and yet Congress has gone and passed the Silver Bill, and they have to take the same kind of money as other people do.

FISH RAISING.—An agricultural exchange intimates that nearly every farmer in or near the foot-hills can, with very little trouble, supply themselves with fine, fresh fish, and more especially those residing on the bank of the Creek. Wherever there is a good strong spring, or where the water from a spring may be utilized, a little labor will make a pond of an acre, and it can readily be stocked with spaw or young fish. They will thrive and multiply to an astonishing extent and form an agreeable variety to the routine of the farmer's table. Green, the famous pisciculturist, says "one acre of water, well cultivated in fish, will make a larger net revenue than two of land."

REVENGE.—The Napa Reporter of Saturday last says: A rumor is current to-day, on the street, that the Thompson boys, Granville and Greenville, were killed at Pine Flat, Sonoma county, on Wednesday last, by a man named See. It will be remembered by most of our readers that a number of years ago a man named See (brother to the one mentioned above) was killed in Monticello, by one of the Thompson boys, who was tried in this city and acquitted. It was supposed that the killing of the two men at Pine Flat by See was to avenge the death of his brother.

The party here referred to, is brother to John T. See, who was killed, some four years since, by the above mentioned Thompsons at a gathering in Monticello.

The Calistoga correspondent of the following version of the affair:

The Geyser mail carrier, who arrived at this place Wednesday last brought the news of the murder of the Thompson brothers, Granville and Greenville, who lived at Pine Flat. Our informant says that while sitting in the house, after night, they were fired upon through the window, one being killed instantly, and the other dying Monday morning—the shooting having been done Sunday night. To-day the story is corroborated by another party, who says they were at Pine Flat the night the murder was committed. The following circumstances are supposed to have been the cause: Green and Granville Thompson (twin brothers) had a fight with a man by the name of See, in Pope Valley, some years ago, which resulted in his death, the trouble originating through some land affair. It is said the brother of Mr. See vowed vengeance. After years of law suits, the Thompsons escaped the law, and have since acquired a fortune at Pine Flat, through mining enterprises and sheep-raising, having at present 12,000 sheep on their ranch. The story goes that See (who, it is supposed, did the shooting), was seen at the Geysers, several days previous to the killing of the Thompsons. As they were at Santa Rosa, it was necessary for him to await their arrival home, Sunday night being the first night they had spent at home for over a week. The man who did the shooting, it is said, lives at Eugene City, Oregon, and has taken this trip to California on purpose, to wreak vengeance on those who caused his brother's death.

Par-ties here who are acquainted with the Thompsons, say they have long expected an attack on their lives, and in all cases went heavily armed. But on this occasion they had no chance for defence, as the shooting was done from the outside of the house, and with a cool and deliberate aim.

General Items.
 Cigarette papers made of water-creases are used in some of the New York cigar factories.

A Florida railroad made nineteen cents clear last year, and singular to relate, not one of the attaches, from President down to brakeman, were accused of stealing.

Building houses for settlers in Australia, is a new business in San Francisco. They are finished completely, then taken to pieces and shipped to their destination.

A running race will come off at Chico, April 27th, single dash of a mile and a half, open for all horses in the State, the exception being that Mollie McCarty must carry her full weight, 111 pounds.

The Workingmen, at the recent Oakland City election, elected their candidates for Mayor, Police Judge, City Attorney and City Justice. The Republicans, City Marshal and Superintendent of Schools. The Democrats had no ticket in the field.

Graves county, Kentucky, claims a woman who has given birth to five children in thirteen months. The distracted husband has not been heard from since the official count.

A medical journal gives the antidotes to a number of poisons, and adds: "These remedies, must be given before the Doctor comes." By all means. Give the patient at least one chance for his life.

"You old vulture, you," she exclaimed, when he hinted that five bonnets per annum were about enough for any ordinary woman. Next day, when he relented and told her to order a sixth, it would have made an angel smile to hear her sweetly call him "Darling Birdie."

MARRIED.
 LEE-EMILIO—At Sacramento, Mar. 16. Manuel Lee to Constantia Emilio, both of Yolo county.
 FISHER-RHODES—At Colusa, Mar. 16. Isaac Fisher to Annie Rhodes.

BORN.
 WINTERS—Near Winters, March 15, 1878, to Theodore Winters and wife, a daughter.
 BRATTEN—Near Winters, March 17, 1878, to J. Bratten and wife, a daughter.

Missouri Items.

Ralls Co. Record, March 7: New London has twenty-two widows, and some of them don't seem to appreciate the title. In this connection we might truthfully state that there are twenty-two more ladies who would be better off if they had no husband to take care of.

Mr. J. M. Jones, accompanied by his family, left last week, for Texas, for the purpose of locating.

The Missouri State law, fixing the maximum rates for passengers and freight, will go into effect this month. The principal roads have been charging four and a half and five cents a mile, under an act of 1868, which pledged non-interference with them for ten years. The law will reduce the rates to three cents on the main lines, and four cents on branches.

Record, March 13: Jack Parsons, of this county, will leave for California, with a drove of mules, about the 5th of April.

The movement to resist the payment of the bond debt of Ralls county is assuming gigantic proportions, and the levying of the tax will be resisted to the bitter end.

Salt River is not confined to its bed at present, but is tearing through the woods and lowlands, and carrying off everything within its reach.

Nancy Self, wife of Stewart Self, died in Center township, last Friday.

Miss Ellen Brown, living one mile north of town, is lying very low with consumption.

Canton Press, March 8: Julius Durkee, who has been spending the Winter here with his relatives and friends, left last Monday for California. During his stay in Canton, he renewed many old acquaintances and formed a large circle of new ones. Julius was accompanied by Edward Bates and Henry Durkee, son of T. L. Durkee. Henry goes to the Black Hills.

"Malinda" is the name of a new station on the Keokuk route, seven miles north of Canton. It was formerly known as Stow's wood-yard.

The relief fund in St. Louis is exhausted, and there is great suffering among the poor. Over two thousand children are kept from school, for want of proper clothing.

Married.—In Quincy, E. R. Spangler, formerly of Canton, to Laura B. Drain. In Palmyra, Henry Bremner to Mary Berghoefer.

Mexico Intelligence:—Last Tuesday night, 235 emigrants and persons looking for locations, passed through this place, a large majority of them en route to Southern Kansas. Wednesday, about 300 more passed through, mainly for the same destination. A majority of these persons were from Northern Ohio and Indiana, and seemed to be a desirable class of population. Mr. D. Henderson, depot agent, estimates that within the past week at least 1,500 persons, of the class above mentioned, passed through Mexico, going Westward, and nearly all bound for Kansas and the Territories.

Jefferson City Tribune: Some time ago we published in the Tribune how Mr. Geo. E. Wade, one of our enterprising farmers, had cured his cholera, by bedding his hogs in tobacco. Not long ago Mr. Wade was taken quite ill, and during that time was unable to give the proper attention to his stock that was necessary. When he recovered, he found that numbers of his hogs were afflicted with cholera, some of them very badly. He resorted to his old remedy, throwing a quantity of leaf tobacco in the pens, and it worked like a charm. The hogs bed on it, inhaled it constantly, and are thus cured.

Hannibal Courier, March 7th: Col. Carlton A. Munger died at his residence near town, on Monday last, aged 70 years.

Died.—Feb. 7th and 11th, 1878, at their residence in LaBelle township, Lewis county, Henry Broomfield, and Lucy R. Broomfield, his wife.

"Where are you going, George?" "Why, I am going to buy a suit of clothes over at Blum & Co's. They are selling at cost."

DIED.
 WINTERS—Near Winters, March 15, 1878, to Theodore Winters and wife, a daughter.
 BRATTEN—Near Winters, March 17, 1878, to J. Bratten and wife, a daughter.

DIED.
 WRIGHT—At Knight's Landing, March 12, Nancy M. Wright, aged 70 years, formerly of Hannibal, Missouri.

NEW THIS WEEK.

A GRAND BALL

WILL BE GIVEN BY THE

YOUNG MEN OF WINTERS

At Sackett's Hall,

On Monday Evening, April 1st.

TICKETS, (Including Supper) $2.50.

GOOD MUSIC IN ATTENDANCE.

All are Invited to Attend.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6th.

Grand Opening

—OF THE—

WASHINGTON PARK

AT DIXON!

MR. GEO. FRAHM,

Lessee of the above Park, invites all his friends and the public in general to attend a FREE PICNIC!

Given by him in honor of opening the above Park for the coming Picnic Season.

MUSIC WILL BE FURNISHED BY THE

ELLIS' BRASS BAND OF WOODLAND!

Entrance to Hall and Park

Free.

The Park and Hall will be rented to other parties for Picnic purposes if desired.

May Day Festival,

Under management of the California College.

A Grand May Day Festival

WILL BE GIVEN

At Vacaville, May 1st, 1878.

PROGRAMME.

Exercises at the Chapel at 11 A. M.:

Singing of choruses by the College students, 60 in number, assisted by the Arion Glee Club; Addresses by Dr. Taft and others; Crowning of the May Queen.

AT 1 P. M.,

GREAT DINNER SPREAD

UNDER THE T-REES OF THE COLLEGE GROUNDS.

Free to All.

REFRESHMENTS,

AS ICE CREAM,

STRAWBERRIES and LEMONADE,

Sold on the grounds by the ladies exclusively.

EVENING.

Grand Old Folks Concert,

AT THE CHAPEL, BY THE

ARION GLEE CLUB

And others, some 25 in all, in full costumes of the times of 100 years ago. m23

Occidental Hotel,

CORNER ASBY AND RAILROAD

STREETS, WINTERS, CAL.

D. F. EDWARDS, Proprietor

HAVING TAKEN POSSESSION OF

This Favorite Hotel

I AM NOW PREPARED TO OFFER THE

TRAVELING AND RESIDENT PUBLIC,

First-Class Board.

LARGE AND WELL-FURNISHED ROOMS

BY THE

DAY OR WEEK.

The Table

WILL BE AT ALL TIMES SUPPLIED WITH

THE BEST THE MARKET

AFFORDS.

CHOICE WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS

AT THE BAR.

No Chinese Cooks Employed.

WINTERS ADVERTISEMENTS.

BLUM & CO.'S ADVERTISEMENT.

WINTERS ADVERTISEMENTS.

Parker House

RAILROAD STREET, BET. MAIN

AND RUSSELL, WINTERS.

FIRST-CLASS

Board and Lodging

—BY THE—

DAY OR WEEK,

AT REASONABLE RATES.

AT THE BAR

CAN ALWAYS BE FOUND THE CHOICEST

WINES,

LIQUORS

AND CIGARS.

DEALERS IN

DRY GOODS,

BROOKS,

CLOTHING,

BOOTS AND SHOES.

And in fact every thing that is to be found in a well regulated

General Merchandise

Store.

PURCHASERS OF

Wool and Grain.

F. B. CHANDLER,

DEALER IN

BUILDING MATERIAL,

Elmhurst, So. no Co., Winters, Yolo

Co., and Madison, Yolo Co.

California.

ALL OUR STOCK PURCHASED

DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS.

Pioneer Drug Store,

MAIN STREET, WINTERS, CAL.

THOMAS KEEFE

HAVING RE-OPENED MY

NEW BRICK STORE

AND RE-STOCKED IT WITH

Fresh Drugs and Medicines.

I would respectfully inform my friends and the Public in general, that I am prepared to supply them with the best of

PHYSICIAN'S PRESCRIPTIONS

with care NIGHT OR DAY. Parties living at a distance can have their medicines sent by express

C. O. D. I have on hand Pure

WINE AND LIQUORS

FOR MEDICAL USE

FINE HAVANA CIGARS,

TEETH EXTRACTED

—WITH—

CARE AND SKILL.

All orders received by mail or express will be promptly attended to.

HAULING.

I DESIRE TO NOTIFY MY FRIENDS AND THE Public in General

THAT I AM PREPARED TO DO HAULING

BY THE DAY OR LOAD.

THREE LOADS FOR ONE DOLLAR.

PLowing at REASONABLE RATES.

Hauling by the Day, : : $3.00.

Wm. J. Baldwin.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

NOTICE is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Yolo county until March 29th, A. D. 1878, at 10 o'clock A. M., for cleaning and repairing the County Road. The plans and specifications are referred to Supervisor Sims, who will be at Winters on March 26th, at 10 A. M., to go over the road with those proposing to bid and show them the work and repairs necessary. The contracting party will be paid in warrants drawn on the amount of the contract price, must accompany bids. All bids must be in ink. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids; work to be completed in 60 days.

D. M. BURNS,

Clerk of Board of Supervisors

BLUM & CO.'S ADVERTISEMENT.

BLUM & CO.

WE MEAN BUSINESS; NO HUMBUG.

COME EARLY AND SECURE BARGAINS.

WE ARE COMPELLED TO VACATE THE PREMISES ON THE FIRST OF

MAY NEXT.

At Immense Reduction.

FURNISHING AND FANCY GOODS, Etc.

BOOTS, AND SHOES,

SLATS,

CLOTHING,

DRY GOODS,

NOW OFFER TO THE PUBLIC THEIR CHOICE STOCK OF Harling, Lowry & Co.

OF TIM GOOD AND

SOLD THEIR STORE

THE EXPANDED HAVING

Bargains, Bargains!

LOOK! LOOK! LOOK!

